PERSPECTIVES ON LIFE AT THE

FOREWORD

In the mere ninety-six years since its founding in 1870, the University of Missouri at Rolla has experienced unprecedented growth and change leading to its present position of leadership among engineering schools. Throughout this period of transformation, however, the basic pattern of life at UMR has remained unchanged. In the following pages, we have attempted to show this day-to-day life through the student's campus, study, events, and activities — all factors which formulate and complete a scholastic career.

UNIVERSITY GROWS UNDER LEADERSHIP OF CHANCELLOR BAKER

Leon Hershkowitz, Assistant Dean and Placement Director.

It is not enough that a school exist, it should always be trying to improve itself in all of its phases. This is the attitude taken by Dr. Merl Baker, Chancellor of the University of Missouri at Rolla. The staff under him, shown on these two pages, provides the efficient means to handle all of the school's major problems. Chancellor Baker received his B.S. in Mechanical Engineering at the University of Kentucky and his Ph.D. at Purdue University. With his wide background in engineering Dr. Baker is aware of the many problems posed by a technical school such as UMR. This is evident in the needed changes that he has initiated on the UMR campus.

NEW ADMINISTRATION LEADS UMR TOWARD SECOND CENTURY

With the growth of UMR into a full fledged University, the problems of running the school have become intense. The men shown on these two pages are responsible for the many phases that make up UMR. In 1970 UMR will start its second century. Also in 1970 the enrollment is expected to jump up past 7000. With this increase will come even more problems. The men shown here were chosen with this in mind and will provide Chancellor Baker with needed valuable assistance.

EXPAND AND REVISE POLICIES

When the name of the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy was changed to the University of Missouri at Rolla, its departments were grouped into four divisions: The School of Engineering, Science, Mines and Metallurgy, and Graduate School. With this grouping came the appointment of the professors shown on these pages as Directors of the respective schools. This re-grouping was done in order that UMR could effectively meet its expected increase in undergraduate enrollment.

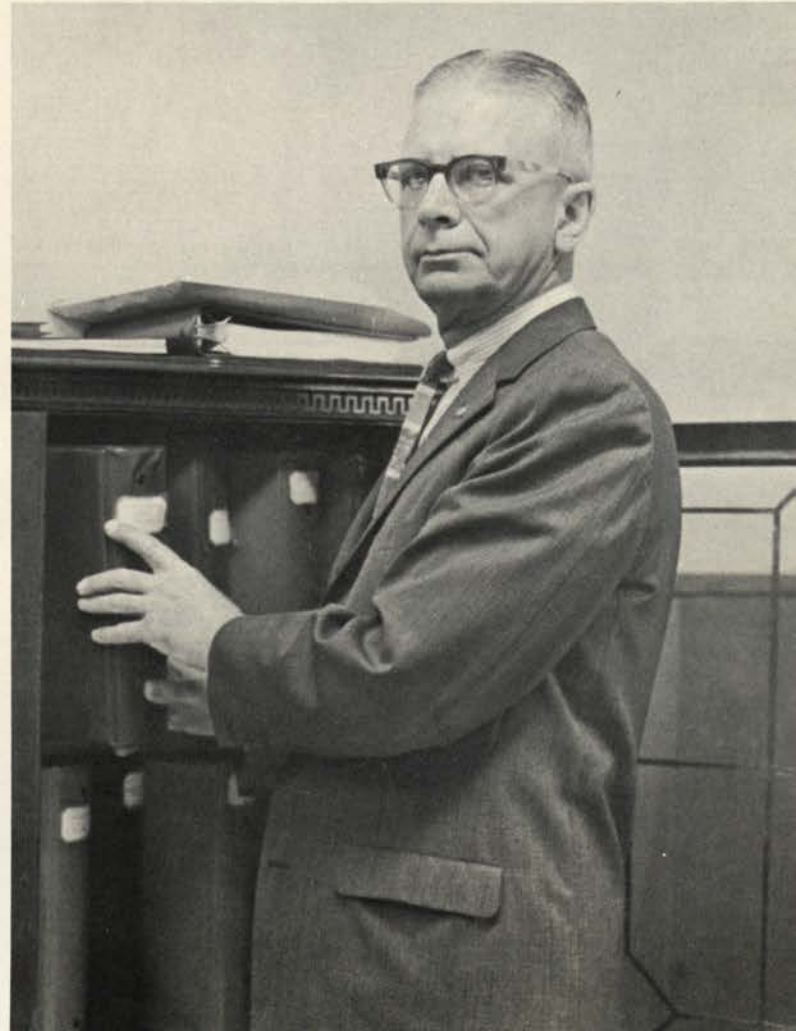

Recent emphasis has been placed on research in all fields of study.

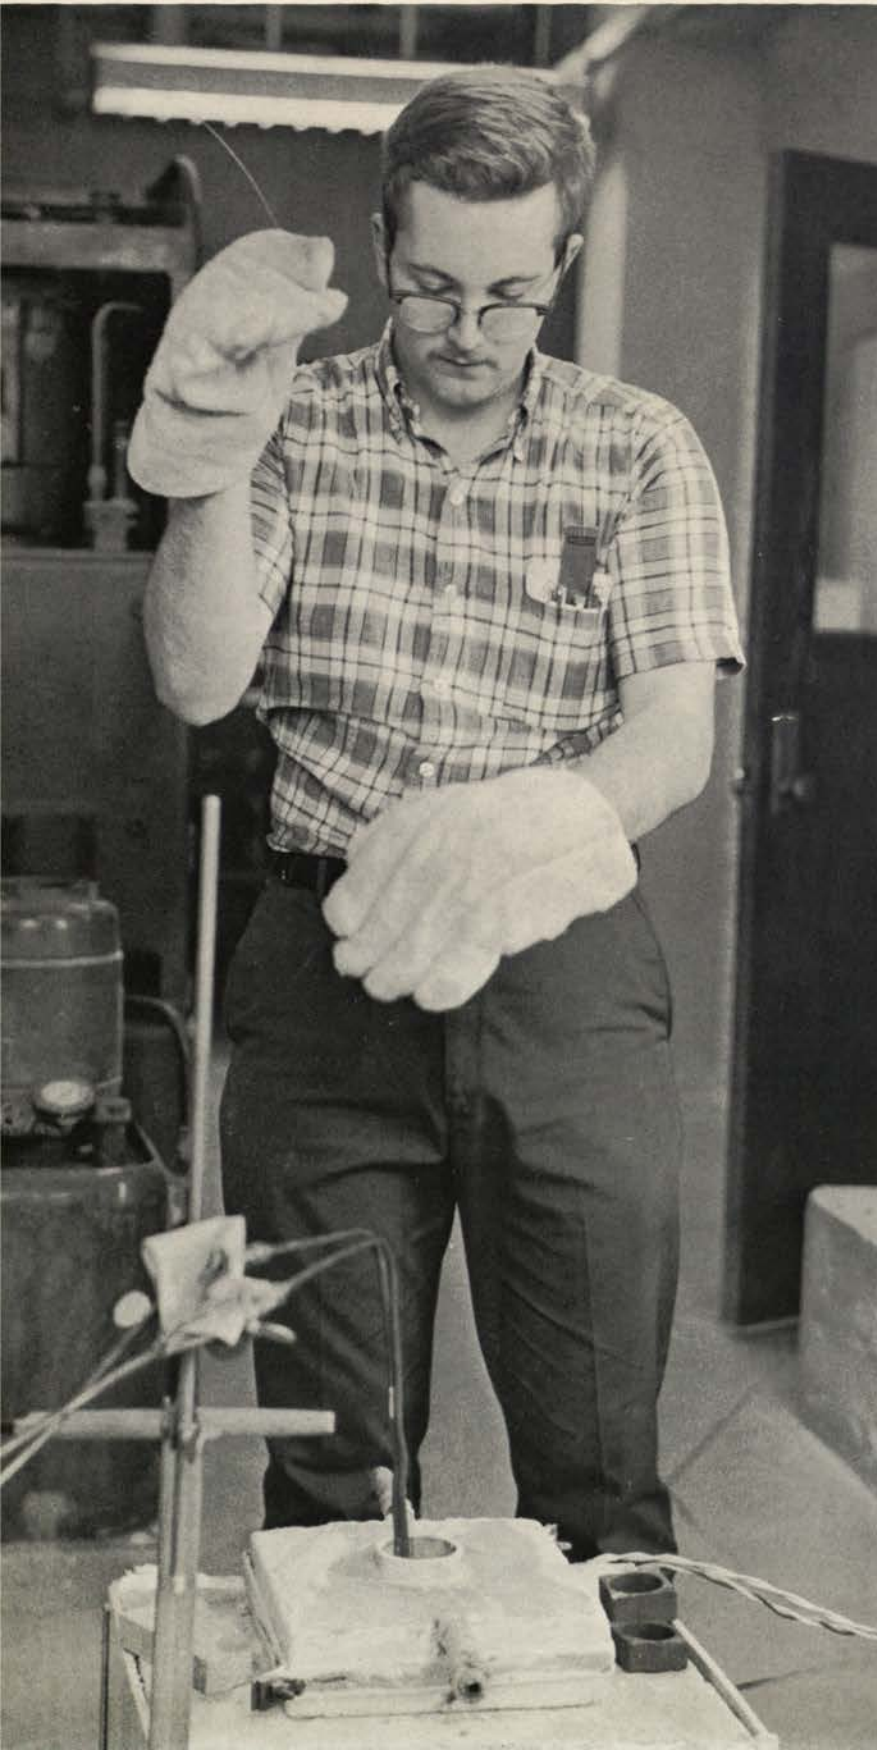

Dr. P. D. Proctor, Director of the School of Science.

Dr. W. Bosch, Director of Graduate School.

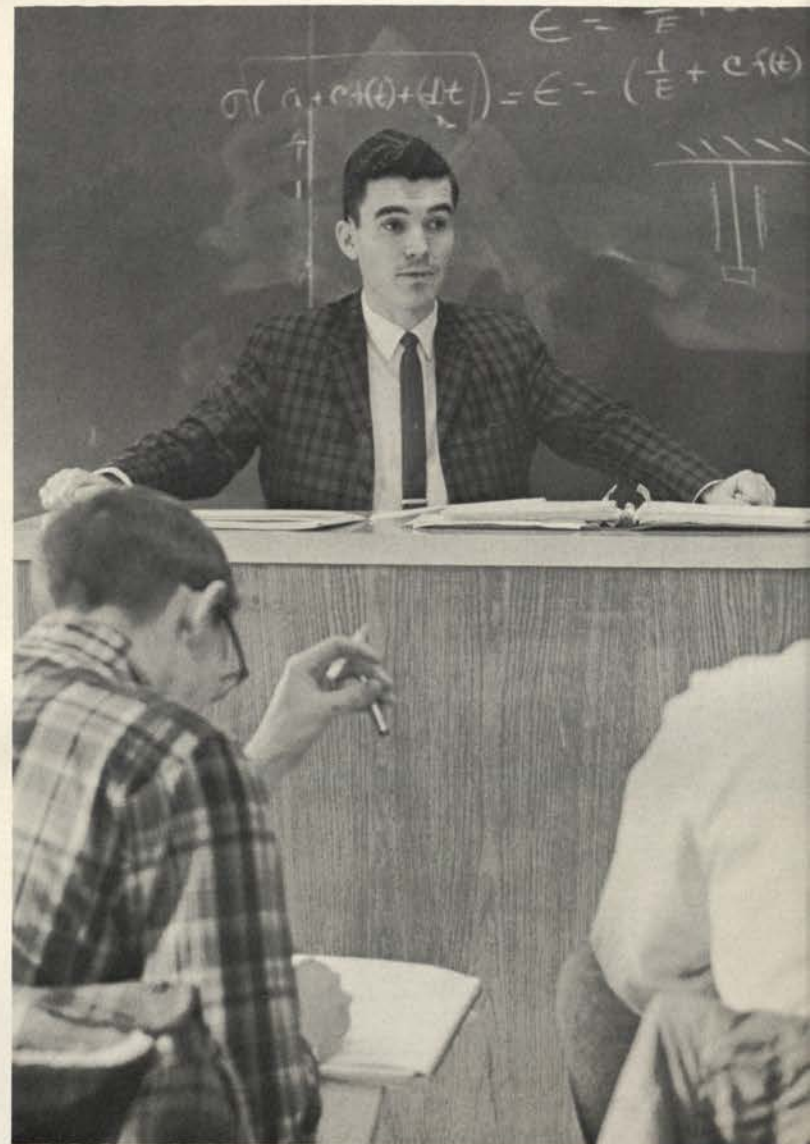

CERAMICS DEPARTMENT HAS NEAR RECORD ENROLLMENT

Laboratory projects give students valuable experience.

Ceramic Engineering is concerned with the formation of products from non-metallic earthy materials by thermal changes. Options include refractories, glasses, abrasives, whitewares, enameled wares, structural clay products, cements, limes, and plaster. During the past year, the Ceramic Engineering Department had a near record enrollment. Graduate students numbered 14 including 10 Ph.D. candidates, while undergraduate enrollment was up a substantial percentage over the previous year. The vast majority of the undergraduates' training is handled by teachers holding Ph.D. degrees. A number of new scholarships and fellowships were added by industries intent on attracting top students to this rapidly growing field. Approximately thirty-five thousand dollars worth of new instructional and research equipment was acquired to offer students training and experience with the latest tools and methods.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING-

Chemistry is a science concerned with the composition, properties, and changes of matter. All entering students at UMR include general chemistry in their studies. The Department of Chemistry, which offers the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. degrees, orients students for research in industrial and government laboratories. The fields of chemistry at UMR include analytical, biological, inorganic, nuclear, organic physical, and paints and polymers. Chemical engineering concerns itself with the design of processes and equipment necessary to transform raw materials into useful products. To meet its ever-growing needs, the department has been awarded grants to re-equip and modernize the unit operations laboratory. Specialized and precision instruments plus an analog computer, have already been added as part of the department's modernizing program.

CIVIL ENGINEERING ENROLLMENT REACHES EIGHT HUNDRED

Dr. E. W. Senne
Chairman
Department of Civil Engineering

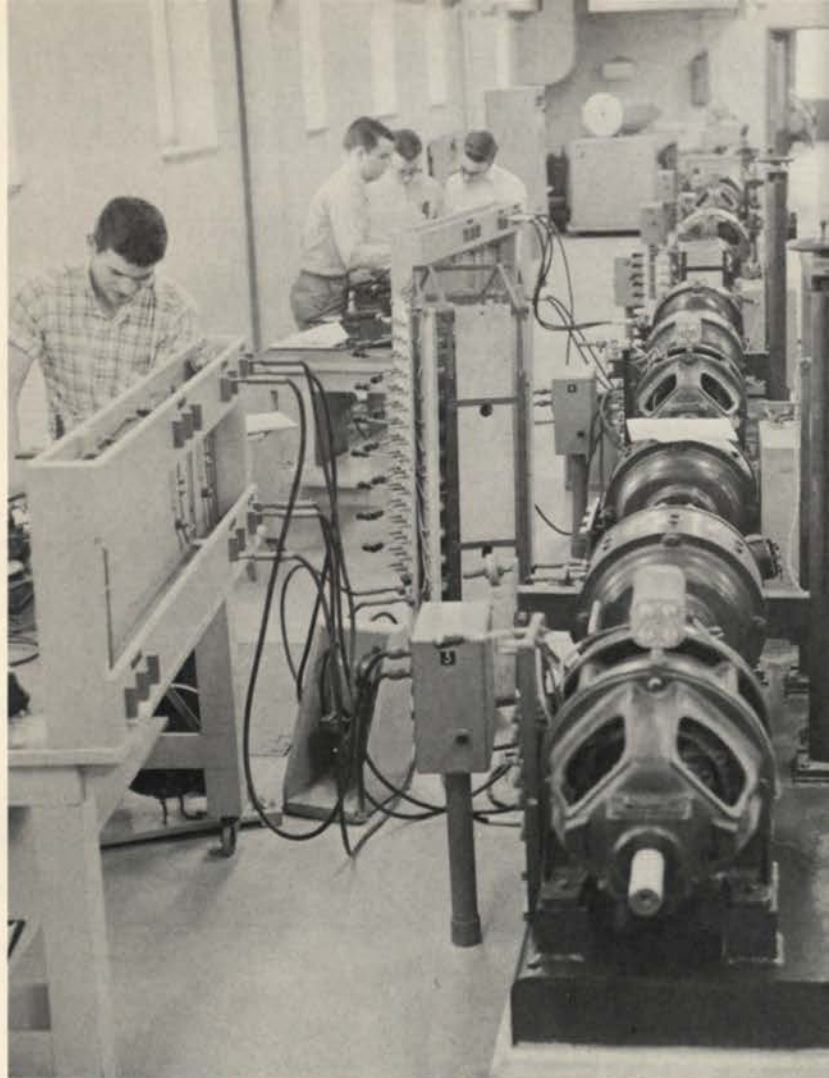

Civil Engineering, with a fall enrollment of nearly eight hundred students, is the third largest department on campus and has had for several years the largest undergraduate enrollment in the country. The department is being constantly upgraded to meet the requirements of an advanced technology. A new instrumentation laboratory has been established to help fill the needs of increased research activities. At present there is a preference program for undergraduates, and graduate study is available at both the Master's and Doctoral level. Options open to a civil engineer include construction, fluid mechanics, environmental and sanitary engineering, soil mechanics, and structural analysis and design.

Soil Mechanics is one of five preference programs offered.

Sanitation is one of the many areas of research in Civil Engineering.

Electronics Research will soon be moved to

Specialization is offered in five electronic preference programs.

Research programs receive special emphasis in the department.

RESEARCH FACILITIES EXPAND IN ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

Dr. R. E. Nolte
Chairman

Department of Electrical Engineering

In the past two decades Electrical Engineering has experienced a dynamic growth, resulting from many new discoveries and applications in the fields of national defense and the space program, and in commercial fields such as radio, automation, television, and energy conversion. The Electrical Engineering Department has five elective preference programs, namely: energy conversion; electronic devices and circuits; electromagnetics and antennas; communication systems; and computer and control systems. The Department is rapidly expanding its research programs on both the graduate and undergraduate level. Evidence of this expansion is the future movement of the Electronics Research Center to a separate building on campus in the summer of 1967.

BASIC COURSES IN GRAPHICS REQUIRED FOR ALL STUDENTS

The Graphics Department endeavors to instill in the student the basic principles of mechanical drawing and drafting while at the same time providing enough practice for the student to become proficient at applying these principles. The department has nine laboratory rooms and a blueprint room equipped with a substantial collection of models and visual aids. The department offers instruction in such subjects as technical sketching, machine drawing, architectural drawing, scientific drawing, graphical calculations and nomography.

Graphics requires many hours in the lab.

A professional atmosphere is maintained at all classes.

Minerals can be identified by such properties as grain size, type of cleavages, and hardness.

GEOLOGY DEPARTMENT JOINS SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

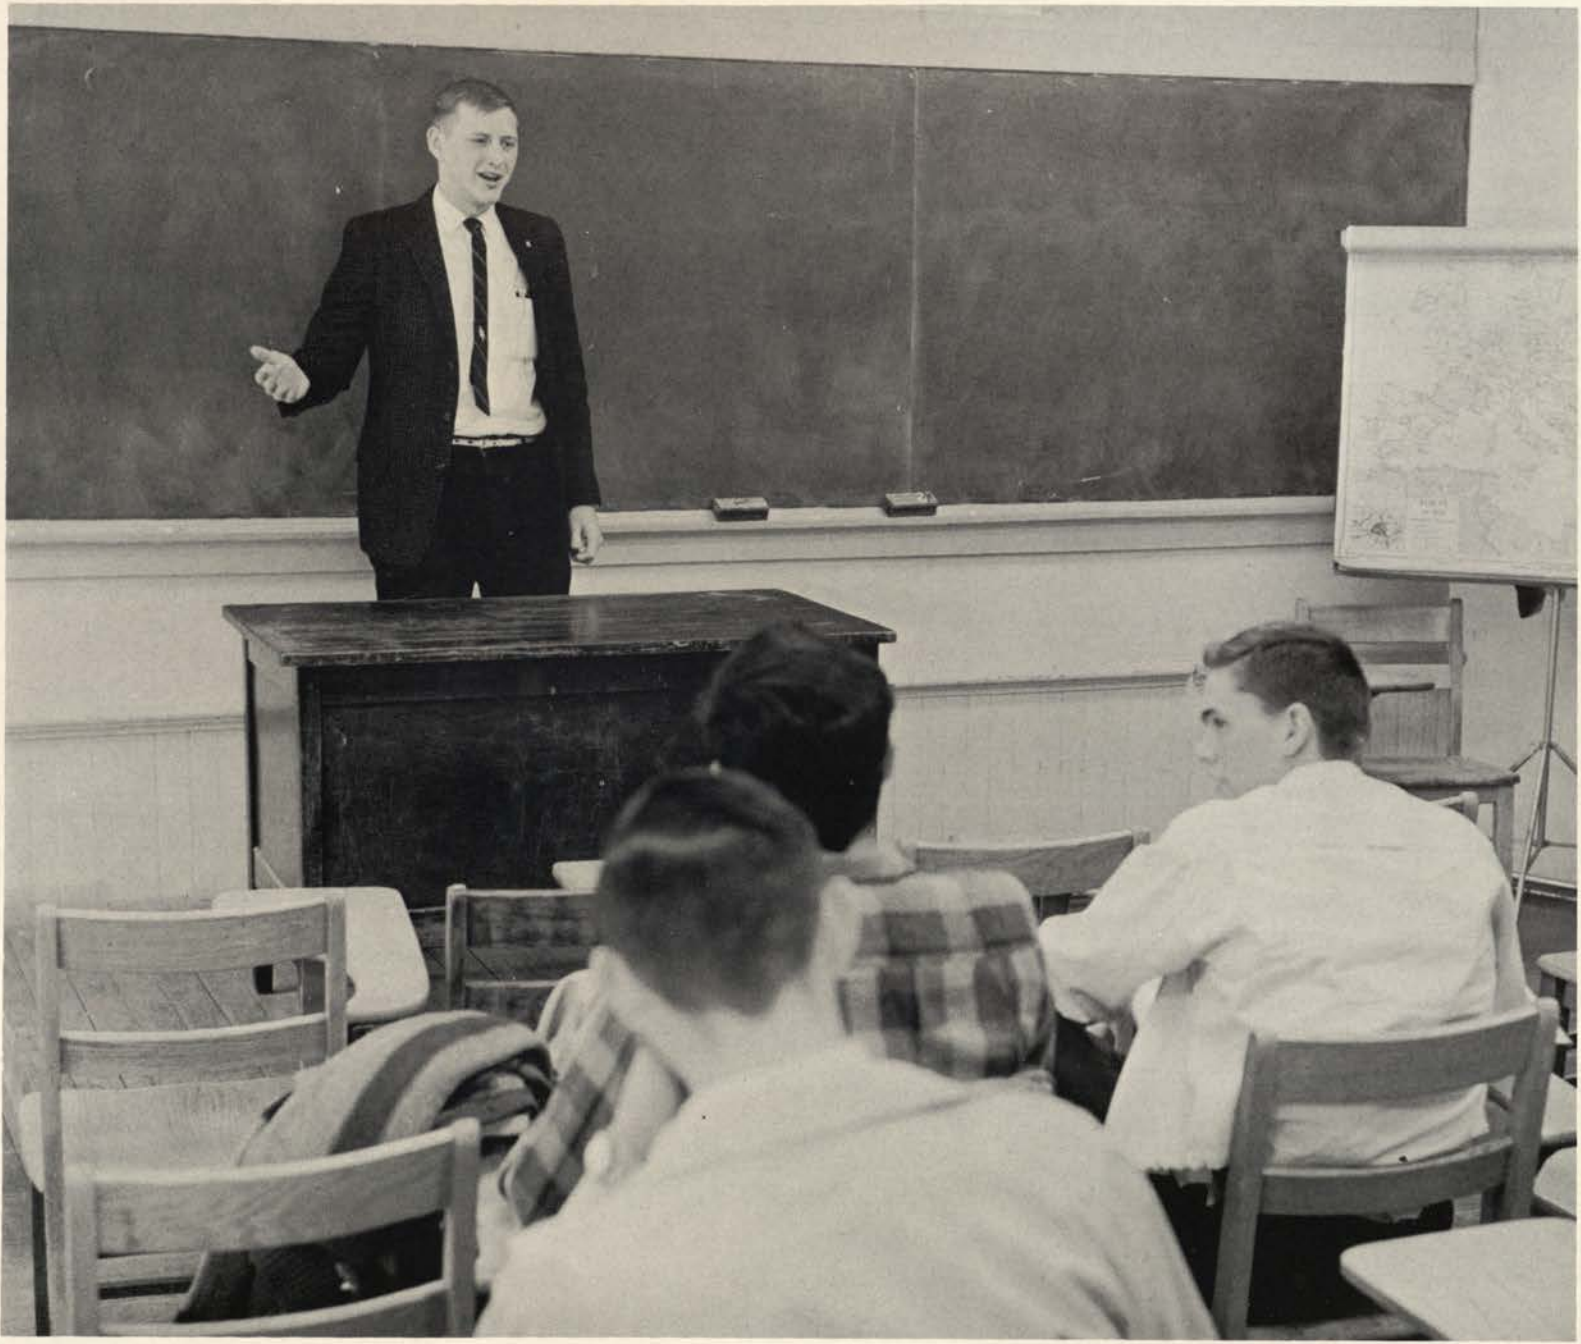

The Department of Geological Engineering and Geology exemplifies the broadness and interdisciplinary relationships of science and engineering. Those majoring in Geology may take an option in Geophysics; those majoring in Geological Engineering may take a minor in Civil, Mining or Petroleum Engineering. A graduate degree in Hydrology-Hydrogeology is also offered in the field of Water Resources. To train for this variety requires a thorough knowledge of earth materials and processes as well as a sound background in chemistry, physics, and mathematics, augmented by specialized courses in the option.

Much class time is spent in learning the composition of earth materials.

HUMANITIES-SOCIAL STUDIES OFFER BROAD CURRICULUM

Professor Bess instructs a class in Sophomore English.

The Humanities and Social Studies Departments offer courses designed to give the student the broad and liberal background necessary to both his personal and professional life. The courses available to the students include literature, history, psychology, economics, sociology, English grammar and composition, and languages. The offices of the Humanities Department are now located in the Rolla Building, while those of the Social Studies department are located in the Old Chemistry Building. It is anticipated that a building to house not only the offices of these departments but the classrooms as well will be available in the near future. A plan is now in effect whereby area students may commute to Rolla to receive the first two years of their general education before transferring to a college or university for a degree not presently offered here.

The mathematician is concerned with the creation and development of tools which he and other engineers can use to solve their daily problems. The University of Missouri at Rolla offers programs in mathematics leading to both the B.S. in Applied Mathematics and the M.S. in Applied Mathematics and Computer Science. Courses leading to these degrees are numerous and extensive, permitting the student to advance in algebra, probability, and computer science—which includes numerical analysis and statistics. The present mathematics major requires 46 credits beyond algebra and trigonometry. Future plans include new and larger facilities and programs in mathematics and in computer science.

MECHANICS DEPARTMENT TO OFFER MASTER'S DEGREE

Engineering mechanics is essentially a study of the effects of forces acting on bodies. The courses in the Mechanics Department are designed to teach the application of mathematics and physics to fundamental engineering design, and to introduce the student to such professional subjects as stress analysis, vibrations, machine design, and dynamics. The Engineering Mechanics Department functioned as a degree granting department for the first time this year when three Master of Science in Engineering Mechanics degrees were granted at the June commencement. To meet the demands of this new graduate program, three new instructors holding the Doctor of Philosophy Degree were added to the staff. Also, several pieces of strain measuring, testing and vibrational equipment were purchased to add to the materials testing, stress analysis, and concrete labs.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING DE

Mechanical Engineering is the broadest and most basic field of all the branches of engineering and currently has the largest single enrollment of any curriculum on the campus. The total enrollment for the 1965-66 fall semester was 964. The field of Mechanical Engineering entails such work as designing products, supervising production, and technical projects, testing individual machines, and conducting research. A program has recently been instituted to permit the students to obtain some specialization in one of five preference areas: Aerospace, Energy Conversion, Manufacturing, Mechanical Design, and Nuclear Engineering. During the past year the Department has also received permission to grant the Ph.D. degree, which should cause a rapid expansion of the graduate enrollment in this field.

MINING ENGINEERING IS OLDEST DEPARTMENT ON CAMPUS

The constantly increasing demand for metals, fuels, and non-metals makes the mining and petroleum engineer much sought after to solve the problems of the mineral industry. They use mathematics, physical sciences, and engineering management to make raw materials available at low prices. Options include Mining Engineering, Petroleum Engineering, and Geophysical Engineering. Included in Mining Engineering are metal and coal mining, mine management and economics, and mining research.

METALLURGY HAS THIRD LARGEST ENROLLMENT IN NATION

Dr. H. W. Weart
Chairman
Department of Metallurgical Engineering

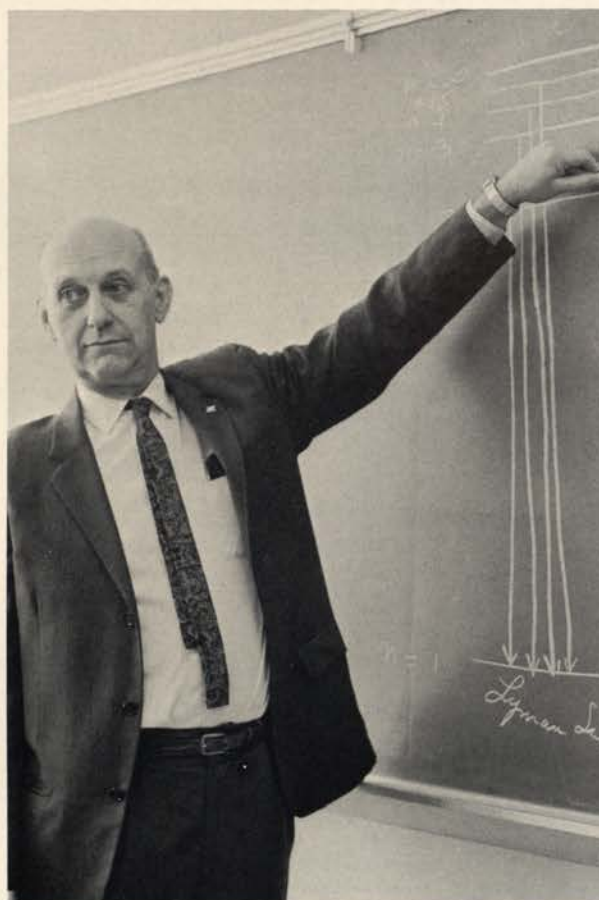

Metallurgical Engineering is that branch of engineering concerned with the extraction of metals from ores and the treatment and shaping of these metals for use by man. Preference Programs include minerals beneficiation, extractive metallurgy, foundry metallurgy, and physical metallurgy. Students may also take a nuclear option which provides a specialized instruction in the unique problems encountered in the development of nuclear energy. The department last year had the third largest undergraduate enrollment in North America. Extensive revisions of instructional programs were made, and new laboratories for x-ray metallography and electron microcopy were opened to contribute to the continued expansion of research and graduate activities.

Extensive revisions of laboratory facilities have been made.

RESEARCH PROGRAMS PROMINENT IN ALL FIELDS OF PHYSICS

Physics is the fundamental science upon which engineering and technology are built. Physics deals with energy in all its forms, with the interaction of matter and energy, and with the structure of matter. All graduates of the school are required to have at least ten hours in general physics before studying in any engineering field. In addition, the Physics Department has academic programs leading to the Bachelor, Master, and Doctorate degree in Physics with an option in Applied Physics. Research plays an important part in the ever expanding field of Physics. For this reason both undergraduate and graduate students participate in the research programs. Many of these programs are supported by a grant from a federal agency and a large percentage of the graduate students receive financial support for their endeavors.

Laboratory courses supplement class lecture where possible.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING OFFERED BY MILITARY DEPARTMENT

Drill — that part of ROTC every cadet “eagerly awaits.”

Army ROTC enables a young man to earn a Commission as an Army Officer at the same time he works toward an academic degree. The leadership training offered by the military program is not normally provided in the academic courses required for a college degree. It includes instruction to develop self-discipline, physical stamina, and the ability to make decisions. The training that qualifies the college graduate to be an officer is an important asset for any young man, whether he plans to become an Army officer, a teacher, a public servant, businessman or professional man. The Military Department sponsors many activities: Scabbard and Blade, Pershing Rifles, Raiders, Rifle Team, URM-ROTC Band, and Military Ball Weekend.

STUDENT UNION PROVIDES VARIETY OF STUDENT SERVICES

William Kratzer, Director of the Student Union, plans another student activity.

One of the newest buildings on the UMR campus is the Student Union. The main feature of the Union is its snack bar and cafeteria service. The Union is capable of serving wholesome meals to as many students as desire them. On the first floor a large ballroom provides a place for school mixers, departmental mixers, banquets, and organization smokers. The second floor is made up entirely of meeting rooms which are used by all of the organizations on campus. Recreational facilities are also provided by the Student Union in the form of color television set, pool tables, ping pong tables, and a music room for the benefit of all.

Art exhibits are frequently featured in the Music Rom.

The Union forms the center of many student events.

RUSH-ORIENTATION OPENS UMR CAMPUS TO NEW STUDENTS

The first week before classes begin, called "RUSH WEEK," is devoted entirely to informing the new student about the different aspects of life at UMR. During this week the school presents informative programs explaining such things as housing, school requirements, and engineering itself. In conjunction with the school, all the eating clubs and fraternities throw open their doors so that students can choose their own housing and eating facilities. "RUSH WEEK" gives the prospective student the opportunity to prepare himself for the upcoming long hours of study.

REGISTRATION GREET'S OVER ONE THOUSAND FRESHMEN

Over 100 coeds enrolled at UMR this year.

One of the most confusing tasks that an incoming freshman must handle is registration. With over a thousand students trying to register on the same morning, the situation becomes quite complex. However, able school personnel are always available to help students fill out the many required forms. Once a student has survived registration he can look forward to his first week of classes, a week marked by more confusion. The task of being in the right classroom at the right time is not as easy as it sounds, with physics being taught in the Geology building and so on, but in the end every student finally gets his schedule figured out.

Able school personnel help solve the problems caused by registration.

ALL SCHOOL MIXER PROVES TO BE HUGE SUCCESS

One of the best solutions for the lack of feminine companionship on the UMR campus is the popular all school mixer. This year Monticello, Lindenwood, Cottey, and Stephens were well represented. The program for the day began early in the afternoon with music provided by the Sheratons. After a break for dinner the mixer resumed in the Student Union with music provided by the Shadow-Lake-Eight. The all school mixer is undoubtedly one of the biggest social events of the year and the one that UMR students eagerly look forward to.

ROLLA FOR ENGINEERS' DAY

On Saturday, Nov. 6, 1965, high school and college students interested in science and engineering, along with their parents and teachers, visited the University of Missouri at Rolla campus. The occasion was the annual "Engineers Day" held at UMR. The purpose of this day was to acquaint future engineers and scientists with the educational program offered at UMR. Included in this year's campus tour were specially prepared exhibits in science, engineering, and general studies. Laboratories and buildings in all departments as well as Missouri's only nuclear reactor were open to visitors. Students and their parents were also given the opportunity to discuss with the faculty any questions that they had concerning the various aspects of the work being done at UMR.

Students, as well as faculty, assisted visitors.

I.F.C. SING HIGHLIGHTS HOLIDAYS

One of the highlights of the Winter season was the annual Christmas party weekend. The main attraction of this weekend and the fall semester was the annual Interfraternity Council Sing. On Friday, Dec. 10, twelve choruses and eight quartets competed for the 1st and 2nd place trophies. Each group was scored on tone, intonation, technique, and musical effects. This year Kappa Sigma won the chorus division with their interpretation of Roger Miller's "King of the Road." Sigma Phi Epsilon won the quartet division with a lively calypso medley, featuring "Daylight Come" and "Bay of Mexico" as their renditions.

IKE AND TINA TURNER AND RAMSEY LEWIS STAR AT GENERAL LECTURES

The General Lectures series is sponsored by the UMR Student Council. With admission free to any UMR student, this series provides a great opportunity for the student body to enjoy the talents of nationally and internationally known entertainers, lecturers, and vocal groups. Included in this year's schedule were such top vocal groups as Ike and Tina Turner, Jay and the Americans, The Lettermen, and The Ramsey Lewis Trio. Also presented were pianist Richard Morris and noted musicologist John Swanay.

The first St. Patrick's Day celebration was held on the UMR campus in 1908. With the founding of the St. Pat's Board in 1930, the St. Pat's celebration developed into the most widely known and anticipated weekend on the UMR campus. The St. Pat's party weekend is planned entirely by the St. Pat's Board with its funds coming from the Student Council. St. Patrick is chosen by the St. Pat's Board from its members on the basis of personality and service to the board during the past year.

P A S T . . .

Jackling Gym, which was built in 1916 at a cost of over $100,000 has seen nearly a half century of college sports. At the time of its completion, it was considered by many to be the best building of its type in the state of Missouri. It had the only indoor swimming pool in use.

The new gym, which is scheduled for completion in 1968, will accommodate nine intercollegiate sports including football, cross country, basketball, swimming, wrestling, baseball, track, golf and tennis. Also included in the schedule of activities will be the eleven intramural sports of flag football, tennis, horseshoes, golf, swimming, wrestling, bowling, basketball, cross country, softball and track. Altogether there will be scheduled over 1400 contests each year not including the summer program. The new gym and field space will definitely help the entire athletic program at UMR.

Lewis looks for his receivers as opponents pursue.

The 1965-66 Missouri Miners put forth the best overall effort in several years. Outclassed in size by nearly every team encountered during the season the Miner Eleven found themselves opposing men who were fifty and sixty pounds heavier. In spite of this tremendous disadvantage, four school records bit the dust during the course of the nine-game schedule, two career marks and two season records. The record for the career total of touchdown passes caught was tied by a man with two seasons left to play for UMR.

The Miners were led by such players as sophomore quarterback Ronnie Lewis, senior halfback George Gasparovic and sophomore line-man Jim Key. Although the team didn't finish with a winning season, the results were the best in years and with the majority of the squad returning hopes are high for next season.

MINER CAGERS vs. MacMURRAY HIGHLANDERS

An estimated overflow crowd of 2000 spectators cheered wildly as the Missouri Miners crushed the hapless Highlanders 86-56. This second game of the nineteen-game card was won by the biggest margin of the past three years and was the first triumph of the season. UMR's fighting Miners led 30-18 at half time, and they increased the lead to 30 by scoring 56 points in the second half.

RIFLE TEAM

The UMR Rifle Team coached by Lt. Col. Short walked away with several victories this season. One of the more outstanding accomplishments was placing second in the sectional tournament. Opponents of the UMR team included the University of Missouri at Columbia and Wichita State. Congratulations to the team for a fine record.

CROSS COUNTRY

Though hampered by inexperience again this year, UMR's Harriers made a fine showing with a tremendous victory over Westminster. Outstanding features of this year's team included the return of veteran Skip Damotte, the running of Schanholtzer and Holstine, and the continued improvement of the freshman Harriers. Hopes are high for next season.

With the razing of Jackling Gymnasium the chapter of the records book listing the varsity pool records was closed. In the half century since the pool was built the water has been churned by many outstanding swimmers. The last few years have seen the shaping of one of the finest teams in the state. Last season not one meet, home or away, went by without a record being broken. The team is now looking forward to the day they can hit the water in their new Olympic pool which will be a part of the new field house. A few of the latest records are listed below:

GOLF

This season, as in the past, proved to be another successful one for UMR's golf team. Starting the year with a team of experienced lettermen and the excellent coaching of Bud Glazier, the Miner linksmen made a strong bid to capture the MIAA championship, but fell short by a few strokes. Outstanding golfers on this year's team included John Solook and Larry Park. John was elected "Outstanding Golfer of the Year." With five returning lettermen from the seven man team, next season should prove to be a very successful one.

TENNIS

UMR's tennis team, coached by Ray Morgan, is faced with a tougher schedule this year due to the adding of two new teams to the schedule. The team has two returning lettermen and is expected to compile a much better record this season due to the fine start. Opponents of UMR this season include such teams as Washington University, Westminster College, and Springfield. With the support of veterans Bob Whelove and Hank Montray a fine season is expected.

TRACK

This year the UMR track team, with only seven returning lettermen from last year's squad, lacked depth and experience. Even so, several school records were set by the cindermen. The high point man for the team this year was sprinter Gene Ricker. Paul Woley, who set a school record for the shot put at the indoor conference meet at Columbia, Missouri, was chosen "Outstanding Track Star of the Year." In addition, John King, competing in the 440-yard relay, the 220-yard dash, and the mile relay, and David Gray on the high hurdles and the 440-yard dash, also had a fine season. Freshman Don Arney, who runs the half-mile and in the mile relay, is one of the most promising of the new men. With the needed experience gained this year along with the fine job done by student-coach Ted Moore and head track coach Gale Bullman, the Miners are looking for success in the future.

The PROSPECTOR'S CLUB was founded at the University of Missouri at Rolla in 1955. Since then it has served its 160 members as a source of economical meals and a center of activity. Since its founding, "P" Club has achieved prominence as a campus organization. The members of Prospector's Club have always been engaged in all school affairs and campus politics. "P" Club has also been active in intramurals, this year again finishing high up in the overall intramural point standings. In keeping with its atmosphere of congeniality, the doors of the Club are kept open to all its members on a 24-hour around the clock basis.

SHAMROCK CLUB

The SHAMROCK CLUB was formed in the fall of 1955. Born out of a need for eating facilities for independents the Shamrock Club has come to mean more than just a place to eat. It is a home away from the book for its members. Each year through participation in intramurals the members are afforded opportunity to participate in the sport of their choice. The club also serves as a source of part time jobs for any of the members who may be interested. The primary purpose of the club is to provide economical eating facilities for its members. It affords ambitious members opportunities to represent the club in student government activities.

The Club urges its members to participate in all forms of campus activities, especially varsity and intramural sports. Many of UMR's varsity athletes are members of Tech Club. In the past four years its members have brought the overall intramural trophy to Tech Club. This year the Club won intramural volleyball while on its way to a second place finish in the overall intramural standings. Based on Masonic principles, the purpose of Acacia is to provide a bond of fraternalism and friendship among the brothers so that they may be better prepared to take an active part in community life upon graduation. Acacia participates in social affairs on campus while at the same time maintaining a high scholastic average. The past year has been a busy one with many improvements made on the chapter house.

THE NU DEUTERON chapter of Alpha Epsilon Pi was founded on May 15, 1947, at the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy. Although the chapter became inactive in 1952, it was reactivated on May 4, 1963. Since then it has grown from five charter members to its present membership of twenty-four. The fraternity's most important goal is to keep up the high grade point of last year which merited them the I.F.C.

Scholarship Improvement award. Earlier the first semester they well represented both the fraternity and the university at an Alpha Epsilon Pi Regional Conclave held at the University of Illinois. This has been a fine year for Alpha Epsilon Pi, and they all look forward to their National Convention which will be held in Miami in August.

Founded shortly over a year ago at UMR, the chapter has already seen two of its members graduate with Bachelor of Science degrees in Nuclear-Metallurgy and Electrical Engineering. Under the guiding impetus of Dr. Jacques Zakin of the Chemical Engineering Department, Epsilon Psi is striving to rank at the top of the scholastic standings. This coming August Alpha Phi Alpha will have its national convention in St. Louis. The brothers are planning an active rush for the summer months in order to have a full pledge class ready to move into the chapter house next September.

SCHOLARSHIP is the keynote for the brothers of Delta Sigma Phi. Since their founding on the UMR campus in 1957 the chapter has never turned in a grade point average below all-men's. Last year the chapter was recognized as having the highest grade point average of all Delta Sigma Phi chapters in the nation. In addition to scholarship, the brothers at Delta Sig work for leadership and companionship. A new chapter house is under construction out on Nago-gami Road. The brothers hope to move in next Sep-tember and are planning an active summer rush program aimed at providing a full pledge class to get the year off to a good start.

In the spring of 1965 the chapter became a colony of Delta Tau Delta and each man is working towards the day when the chapter will receive its national charter. Our thirty-six man chapter house is situated on an eight-acre lot on Vienna Road overlooking our own pond. Scholarship, leadership, and brotherhood are the goals of the chapter. Two of the Brothers have been elected to Kappa Mu Epsilon, the Math honorary society, and to Pi Tau Sigma, the honorary Mechanical Engineering society. THETA CHI

Epsilon Chi

THETA CHI was founded over 100 years ago at Norwich University, Norwich, Vermont. Originally Phi Alpha Local, Epsilon Chi was installed May 18, 1963 on the UMR campus. Last year the brothers of Theta Chi were very proud of the part they played in campus and community affairs, and winning the IFC Scholarship Trophy, and the Alpha Phi Omega Blood Drive Trophy. Again this year they strived for improvement and for keeping both of these trophies in the trophy case. Theta Chi's social events for the year are a Christmas party, for the underprivileged children, Homecoming, Pledge Dance, Christmas, St. Pat's, and Greek Week Parties.

A new member gets the long awaited signatures for his paddle.

Steve Eisert seems to be having a little trouble keeping his feet on the ground.

Top: Theta Xi's candidate for St. Pat's Queen, Miss Judy Jergens, is escorted by Ray Betz.

THETA XI

Alpha Psi

THETA XI is one of the younger fraternities on the UMR campus, having been granted its charter on October 8, 1949. Theta Xi provides a college home environment for its members in which fellowship and alumni guidance lead to wholesome mental, moral, physical, and spiritual growth. The chapter participates in every intramural sport and extracurricular activity that the school offers. This year the chapter hosted our district convention during the weekend of Pledge Dance. A recent addition to the chapter house was a new dining room capable of seating sixty people. The dining room was made possible by the efforts of the alumni association.

An after dinner discussion in the living room.

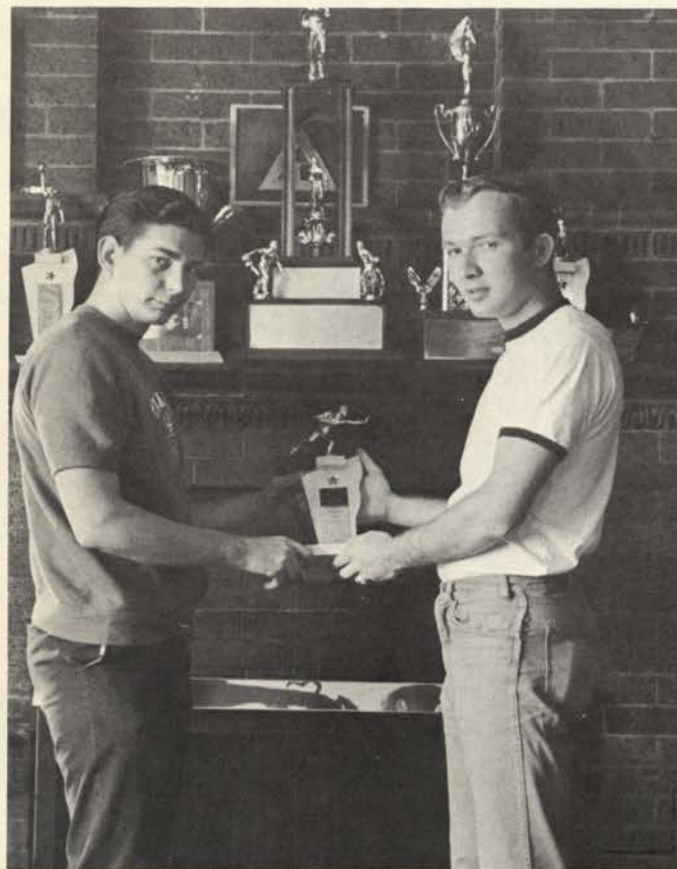

Members and their dates unwind to the music of the Warlocks.

Dale Bast and Rich Heien look over one of the items on the trophy shelf.

A lively looking group rocks on in the dining room.

Top: Mike Walker and partner move in for a kill during the egg smash event at the Grotto.

TRIANGLE
Missouri Mines

TRIANGLE, a fraternity of Engineers, Architects, and Scientists, was started on the University of Missouri at Rolla campus on December 10, 1927, by the Grubstakers Club. Since its founding, Triangle has participated in intramural sports and has actively engaged in numerous social functions while maintaining a respectable grade point. This past year plans were begun for the remodeling of the "Old Rock House" in order to better serve the active chapter and the new pledge class. The year was topped off with a great improvement in Triangle's scholarship. The first semester the active chapter maintained a 2.51 grade point which was the highest of all the fraternities on campus.

Mike Wall catches a few rays during final week.

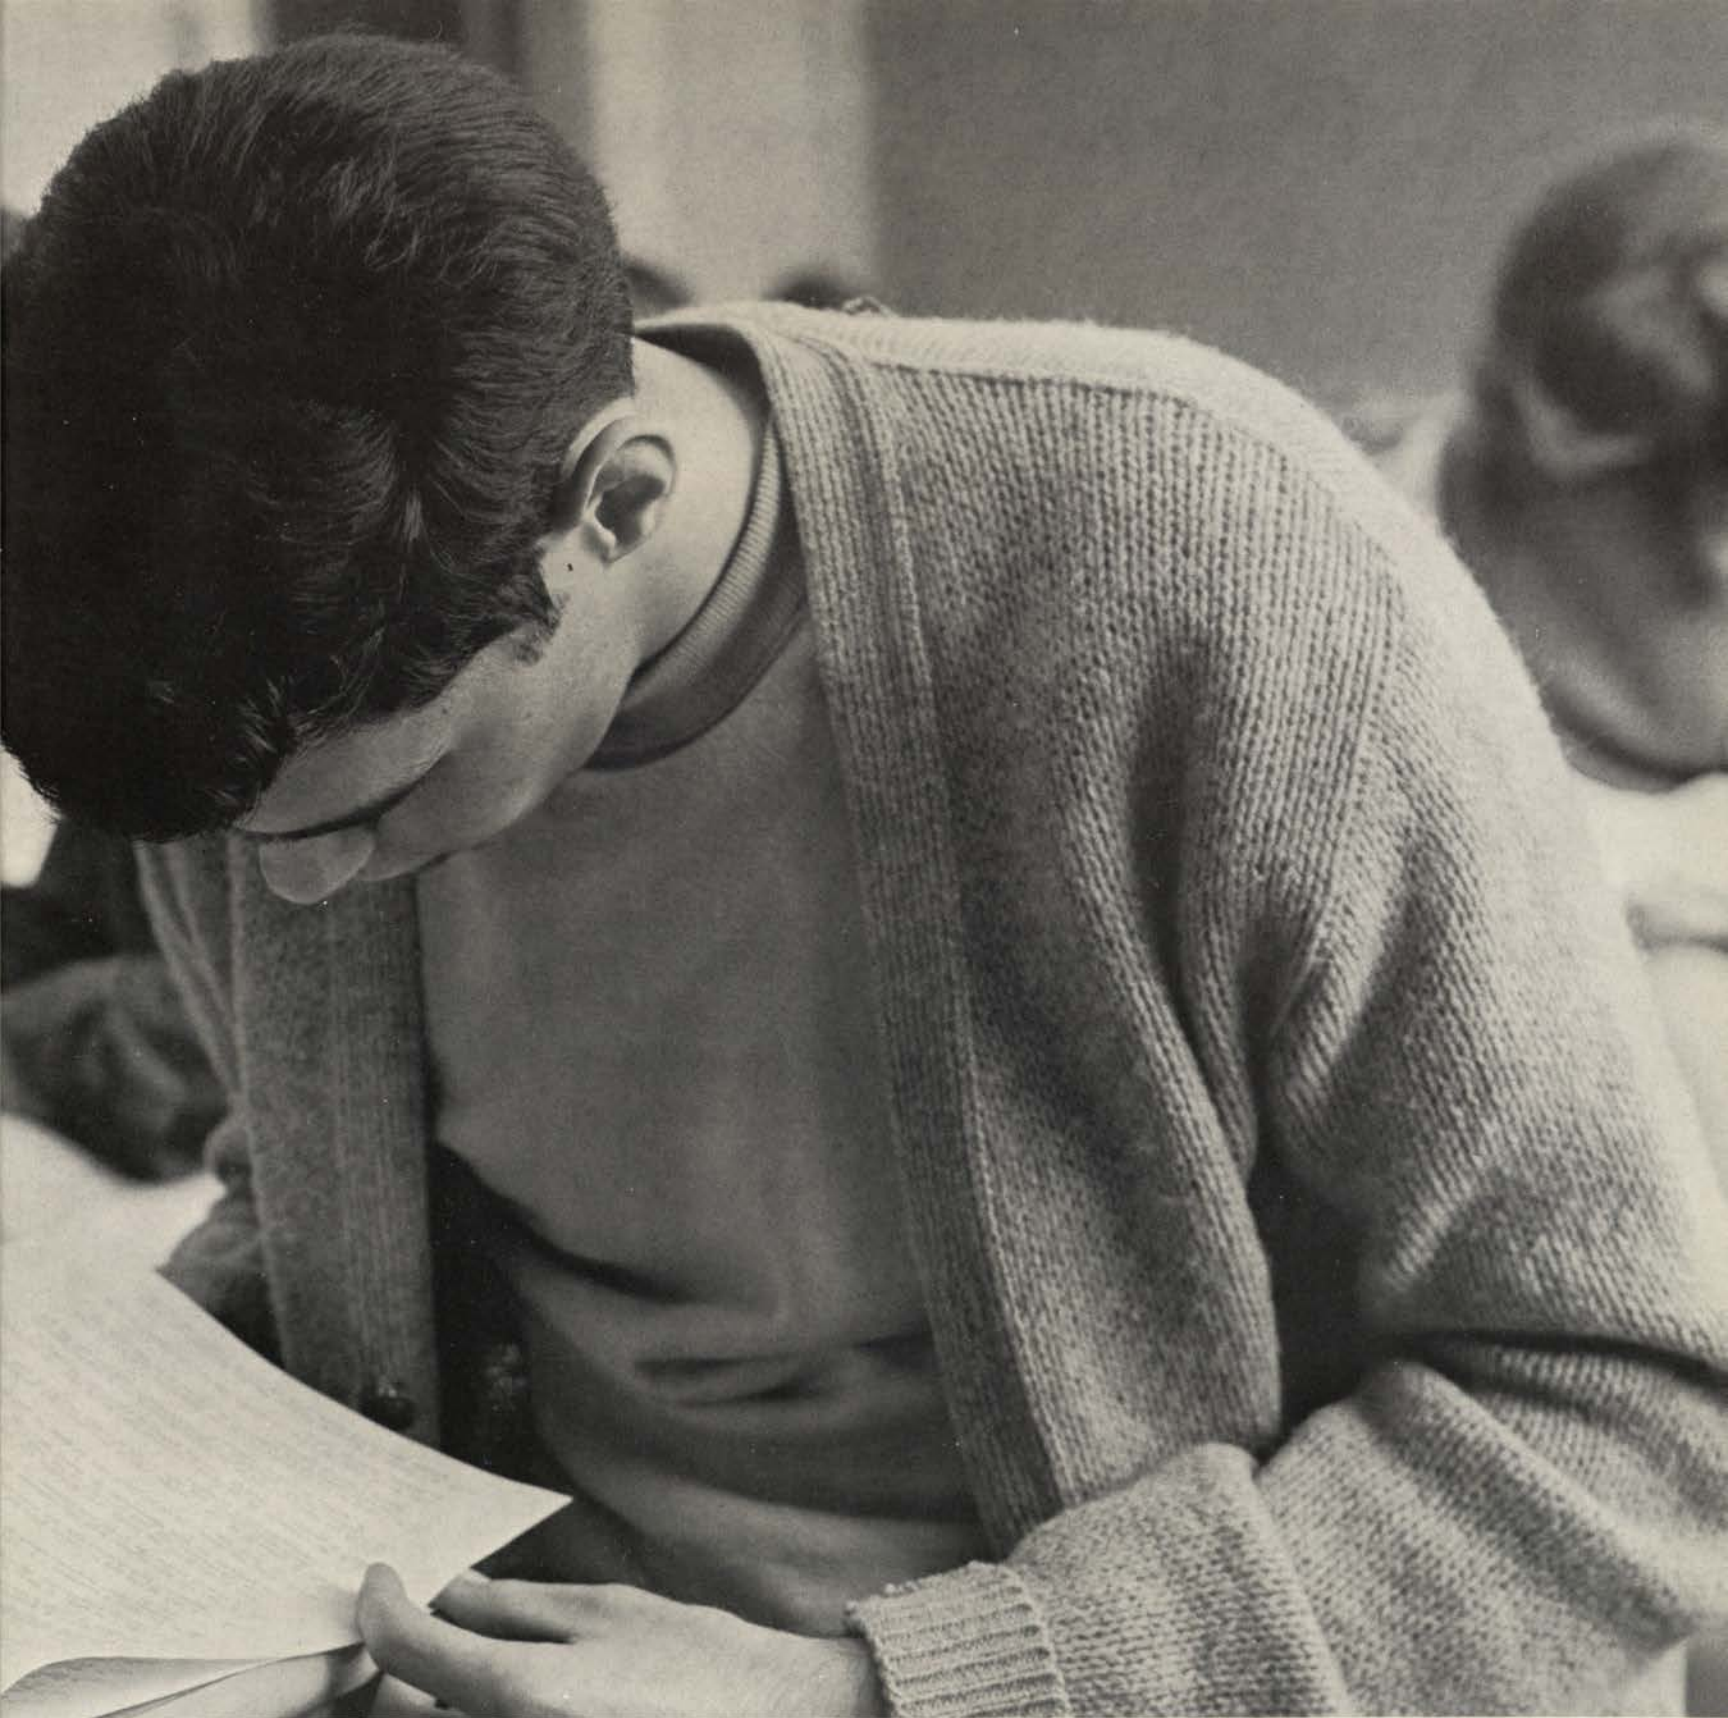

Art Simmons receives a little help in getting his knighting.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW: YOU AND ROLLAMO '66

By Mike Evans, Editor

The University of Missouri at Rolla 1966 . . . sixth largest of the nation's engineering universities and colleges and largest west of the Mississippi: enrollment of 4,500 offering degrees in twenty fields of engineering and science.

At the time of this writing, Rollamo '66 is ready to go to press. In planning and producing this book, there has been an attempt to establish a definite layout style and carry this style throughout the publication. We have presented the theme, "Life at the University of Missouri at Rolla," through the campus, study, events, and activities known to all of us.

Just in case you are wondering where the past year has gone or what happened in the outside world while you were studying for a quiz, playing football, or just relaxing, here are some of the headlines from 1965-1966. The Los Angeles Dodgers won the World Series behind the arms of Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale; our troop commitment in South Vietnam reached 250,000 as Air Force bombers penetrated into the North for the first time; LSD seemed to be the lone pastime of a number of magazine editors; the boxing world continued to fade as Cassius

Clay downed all opponents; and last but not least, a light passed from the world with the death of Winston Churchill.

When I review the past year, this publication remains prominent in my memory. There were so many people responsible for the final product that there is hardly space to mention them all, but a few of the more important are as follows. First, thanks must be expressed to Professor Karl Moulder for his suggestions and guidance throughout the year. The staff did a tremendous job in cooperating with me. Photography was, I think you will agree, excellent throughout the book, and especially the full color, which was done by Del Valle Studios. Also, a special word of thanks to Mr. Harry Swain of St. Louis, and Mr. Davie White of R. Wallace Pischel Inc. for their help and encouragement throughout the year.

COLOPHON

Printed on 80 lb. enamel paper, this book was produced by R. Wallace Pischel Inc., Pasco, Washington, in an edition of 3800 copies.
